ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Address of Governor Fairchild at the Boston Reunion.

Governor Fairchild, of Wisconsin, delivered the annual address before the Grand Army of the Republic in Boston yesterday. He suggested that the society should publish a history of the organization of the Army of the Potomac, and with that view he devoted his address to such facts as had come under his view from the first call for troops until the army encountered its first reverse at Bull Run.

The Army of the Potomac, he said, was peculiarly deserving of praise, because it had done nobly in spite of the most discouraging reverses. Its mission from the first was to guard Washington; and its delays, countermarches, and defeats, which were the result of conflicting counsels, were the subject of universal criticism. Events crowded upon each other with such rapidity that the leaders scarcely knew what line of policy to follow, and many of the disasters were due to the lingering hope of peace. General Scott had been making preparations for defense. Colonel George H. Thomas (afterwards Major-General) was placed in command of Georgetown); Captain Shiras (afterwards Commissary-General) in charge of the Treasury building; Captain Charles P. Stone (then colonel of militia) guarded the President's house; Major McDowell (afterwards Major-General) had command of Capitol Hill from the railroad depot to the Navy Yard. Commissary supplies were stored in and around the General Post Office; a body of troops was stationed at the Patent Office. In the basement of the Treasury building were strange deposits of whole tiers of barrels of beans, pork, beef, and sacks of coffee, while its porticos bristled with cannon. The Capitol, under Major McDowell, was rapidly converted into a fortress.

On the 17th day of April there were with Major McDowell Captains McComb and Woodruff (engineer officers), two companies of militia, two hundred strong, composed of the stonecutters and other workmen about the Capitol. Near the Navy Yard were four other companies, and near the railroad depot still another, all local militia.

The President's call for troops was gladly responded to. On the 19th of April, the anniversary of Lexington and Concord, the hearts of all loyal men in Washington were gladdened by the arrival of the 6th Massachusetts Regiment, six hundred and forty strong, commanded by Colonel Jones. On the afternoon of the 25th the 7th Regiment New York Militia, Colonel Lefferts, reached Washington. They left New York city on the 18th, and communication through Baltimore being interrupted, went from Philadelphia by way of Havre de Grace to Annapolis, where they joined the 6th Regiment Massachusetts Volunteers, Colonel Monroe, who were accompanied by their brigade commander, General Butler. So far as Washington was concerned, the crisis was now passed. The way being open, other troops came forward rapidly from all parts of the North, so that by the first of May a general feeling of security prevailed. The speaker then noted the result of the second call for troops, detailing the events in regular order until on the 23d of May General Mansfield, commanding the department of Washington, had under him rather more than thirty thousand men.

The immediate defensive occupation of the south bank of the Potomac was determined upon. A force of about thirteen thousand men was assigned to this duty, and on the night of the 23d the movement took place in three columns. These troops took possession of Arlington Heights. At Long Bridge crossed at about the same hour a battalion of district militia, consisting of the National Rifles, Captain Smead; Zouave company, Captain Powell; and Constitutional Guards, Captain Digges; and later the 7th, 12th, and 25th New York Volunteers, under command of Major-General Sanford; and the 2d, 3d, and 4th New Jersey Volunteers, under Brigadier-General Runyon. The 7th New York was posted at Hughes' tavern, near the Virginia end of the bridge; the 2d New Jersey half a mile further on at Roach's Spring. The 12th and 25th New York, and the 3d and 4th New Jersey, and one company of cavalry moved to the right, up the river, and joined the troops, who had crossed above, at Arlington Heights. The 1st Michigan, Colonel Wilcox, a detachment of United States cavalry, under Major Stoneman, and a section of Sherman's battery, under Lieutenant Ransom, marched by way of Long Bridge to Alexandria. The Fire Zouaves, commanded by Colonel Ellsworth, went thither at the same time by water. The whole of Sherman's battery crossed during the night, and Ricketts' battery marched over about noon on the 24th. Thus quietly was taken the first step into hostile territory.

From this the speaker proceeded to give an account of the high hopes entertained for this army by the people of the North, which hastened the movements in July which resulted so disastrously.

A PUZZLED PREACHER.

Sad Effect of Nasal Trumpeting.

The Danville (Ky.) Commercial is responsible for the following:—

The Second Presbyterian Church being without a pastor for the present, the different ministers of the town, especially those connected with the Theological Seminary, preach alternately to the orphan congregation, and last night was Dr. Yerke's turn to deliver a sermon to a large assembly. In an eloquent oration he uttered the words of Divine truth, when, suddenly—horrible dictu!—a member affected with a bad cold commenced blowing his nose most violently. A terrible blowing it was, such as you never heard before in all your life, and such as the poor Doctor hopes never to hear again. It evidently swept the whole of the beautiful sermon out of his memory, and having no notes about him, he tried in vain to restore the broken connection; but he could discover neither end, and the frightened Doctor exclaimed:—

"Brother McMullin, will you oblige me by repeating the text?"

The reverend brother arose, thought awhile, stammered, hesitated, and sat down again—he gave it up.

"Please, will any one in the congregation let me know my text?"

After a long pause a student said:—

"1 Corinthians, 10: 16."

Relieved from a great burden, the happy Doctor opened the Bible, but only to find that it was a sad mistake.

"This is not the right one. Please, cannot any one recollect the text?"

A dead silence followed. Professor Beatty, of Centre College, rubbed his head in despair, but he neither rubbed the text out of nor into it. Rev. Mr. Johnstone and many of his brethren, together with the whole congregation, all were unable to find the lost darling.

The laughter which followed now was indescribable, and quite a time passed before the house could be called to order.

It being finally restored, the Doctor called on Mr. McMullin to close the meeting with prayer, and all adjourned perfectly convinced that they had listened to one of the most remarkable sermons ever preached.

THE BRIDE OF A DAY.

A Forced Marriage and its Consequences.

A social sensation of rather singular nature has been developed in certain circles in the East End within the last few days. The circumstances of the case are far out of the usual order of things, and are the subject of much comment.

It seems that a well-known admirer of forty-four years, after a brief but brilliant and ardent courtship, arranged the preliminaries for a matrimonial alliance with a young lady of twenty-two summers, but here it is well to remark that the lady was regarded as a sort of an outsider in the case, and the tender part of the business was done for her by others. At any rate, on Thursday night of last week the intended parties set out in carriages for the church, where the twain were to have been made one flesh. On the way the young lady seemed disposed to avoid the hymeneal harness, and attempted to escape its galling thraldom by leaping from the carriage window. This design, however, was frustrated, and the parties went to church and the fetters were forged. It is said that an aunt of the young lady compelled her to utter the responses which made her the wife of the man she detested.

After the ceremony, the unequally yoked pair went to the house of the ancient bridegroom. After the hour of the wedding matters seemed to have been slightly mixed. At any rate things were eminently unsatisfactory. The bride departed from the house of her liege lord at nearly dawn on Friday morning, and at last accounts was still missing. The bridegroom, however, seems to have had as much connubial felicity as his constitution could stand, and yesterday applied to the chancery court to dissolve the bonds. The case promises some rich developments.—Louisville Ledger.

Amendments to the Treaty.

There is no doubt that four or five Senators have prepared amendments to the treaty of Washington. A number of them are getting ready to deliver elaborate speeches on the subject, which will hereafter be published should the injunction of secrecy be removed. The recent comments on the treaty, both in England and Canada, have disposed Senators to look more closely into its provisions and relative bearings, and afford ground for the belief that the session will be protracted three or four weeks.

The Tax-payers' Convention at Charleston—The Resolutions, etc.

CHARLESTON, May 13.—In the Tax-payers' Convention last evening, Mr. George A. Trenholm, from the committee of eleven, submitted a lengthy report on the financial condition of the State. The grand total of the debt is fixed at $8,869,108; the sum total of unsold bonds is $1,800,000.

The report recommends that the Governor do not sell any more bonds at less than 80 per cent., and to proceed to New York to make the most economical arrangement for holding the above-mentioned $1,800,000 pledged as collateral, until 80 per cent. becomes attainable. The committee further recommends that, when redeemed, a portion of this sum be applied to the payment of the Fire Loan debt.

The report says that it is quite reasonable to expect, from this exhibition of the exact condition of the finances of the State, an immediate considerable advance and facilities for holding them off the market. It appears to the committee that the various issues and sums of bonds described have unquestionable legality and force as obligations of the State. The committee believe that retrenchment may be effected, and that it is the shortest avenue of escape from our financial difficulties. Less than $650,000 in gold will pay the interest on the funded debt; $1,200,000 should defray the interest and all expenses. The committee recommend the adoption of the following:—

Resolved, That it is the sense of the convention that the funded debt of the State described in the Commissioners' report is a valid debt, and the honor and faith of the State are lawfully pledged for the payment thereof.

Resolved, That a plan for the arrangement of the public debt suggested by the committee be recommended to the favorable consideration of the Governor.

Resolved, That in order to complete the examination of the accounts of the fiscal agent, the committee of eleven be authorized to send a sub-committee to New York with authority to assist by counsel, at home or in New York, in the proposed negotiations for the adjustment of the funded debt.

Resolved, That the Governor is hereby requested to review the various expenditures, and use his authority to avert extravagance, and substitute economy and accountability in every department; and that he be earnestly solicited to adopt $1,200,000 as the utmost limit of expenditure; also, that he exert his power to diminish the taxes in the same ratio.

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to destroy the cancelled obligation of the State.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

The committee of eleven made a report of the interview with the Governor, the substance of which is as follows:—To recapitulate, your committee understand his Excellency as having committed himself to the following propositions:—

First. That he signed no other bonds than those set forth in the debt statement made by the Comptroller-General, and that there has been no fraudulent or illegal issues.

Second. That the State and county offices, both elective and appointed, have been unnecessarily multiplied, and should be reduced in number.

Third. That many officials charged with the administration of justice have been incompetent and inaccessible to the people, and that the many disorders complained of in the State have been created by this cause, and that he will replace them with competent persons whenever he can do so.

Fourth. That he is in favor of the cumulative system of voting and minority representation, and would be glad to see it made a part of the law of this State.

Fifth. That the election laws are defective and lead to fraud, and should be materially amended, and that he will exercise his influence to that end.

Sixth. That he would have the collection of the taxes next November postponed until the first of March, 1872, and not enforce the penalty for non-payment until that time.

Finally, the committee recommended the following suggestions:—The Legislature ensuring the full payment of the royalty on the phosphates; the repeal of the acts granting exclusive franchises; a stop to be put to the drawing of money from the Treasury for alleged Legislative expenses, on the order of the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate; and that all appropriations and bills ought to specify the items under each general head; the reduction of the number of the State and county officers; the enactment of a law limiting each session of the Legislature to thirty days, repeal the law giving a salary of $2500 to the Adjutant-General; to give each public officer but one salary, and to abolish the commission to codify the laws.

The report was adopted.

The convention then resolved itself a committee of the whole, General Chesnut in the chair. Resolutions of thanks to the presiding officer, and also to Governor Scott and State officers, were passed. The committee rose, and President Porter returned thanks, and said that he need not be ashamed of the convention.

The results would speak and appeal to the country, and if the Executive Committee continue to act in the same spirit and avoid Federal and State politics, and simply welcome to our ranks men who propose to do good, who advocate wholesome laws, just administration of the public funds, and honest officials, it will accomplish the great object of the people in peace.

The convention has done much to remove misunderstanding and inaugurate a period of better feeling and better conduct of public affairs. The convention adjourned sine die, subject to the call of the Executive Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 13.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee finished the consideration of the treaty to-day. They will report on it on Monday. No amendments have been made. It was stated in committee by Assistant Secretary of State Davis that the Britishers would not consent to amend the treaty as proposed by Sumner. If this was done they would allow it to fall.

The Investigation of the Premature Publication of the treaty commenced to-day. Several employes of the Senate were called as witnesses. The New York Tribune correspondent is summoned, but has not appeared. He will refuse to tell where he procured the treaty.

has prepared a speech in defense of the provisions of the treaty which is said to be very long. Trumbull and Schurz will oppose it. Sumner seeks to amend it, and he will answer Morton. The debate may continue two weeks. After a reasonable amount of speech-making for and against the treaty, Mr. Cameron will endeavor to have a vote.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

EVENING TELEGRAPH OFFICE,
Saturday, May 13, 1871.

There is no material change in any of the prominent features of the money market to-day. The supply of available funds both at the banks and with private lenders is largely in excess of current wants, and it is difficult to place balances even at the low scale of rates now asked.

The gold market is quiet, and entirely devoid of speculative movement. All the sales recorded in New York this morning were made at 111⅛.

Government bonds are inactive but steady at an advance of ⅛ on the entire list.

Stocks were neglected but generally steady. Sales of City 6s at 103 for the new bonds.

In Reading Railroad there were small sales at 57; Pennsylvania at 61½@61¾, and allotments at 61; Camden and Amboy at 129, and Philadelphia and Erie at 28¾, b. o.

Canal shares were quiet, with sales of Schuylkill preferred at 18.

In the miscellaneous list we notice trifling sales of Hestonville Railroad at 22½, b. o.; Mechanics' Bank at 32½; McClintock Oil at 1⅛, and Central Transportation at 49½.

THE CASE OF CONNECTICUT IN BRIEF.

From the N. Y. Tribune.

The World rejoiced over the Democratic victory in Connecticut, at the election of the 2d of April last; and the Herald echoed the verdict if not the pæans. Those may best laugh who win; and the time seems fitting for a summary of the causes of hilarity.

1. It was distinctly charged, in a responsible way, both in Connecticut and New York, three days before the election, that Governor English was engaged in negotiations with notorious members of the Tammany Ring of this city, to carry the election by some one of the well-known Tammany appliances; and a despatch from Governor English, furnishing strong corroborative proof of the negotiation, was produced. Its authenticity was denied, but we still stand ready to prove it, whenever the Governor will have the kindness to give us an opportunity for securing a process to compel the attendance of witnesses.

2. On the morning of the second day after the election, the most careful calculation we could make on the returns showed the vote for Governor to be, for Marshall Jewell, 45,789; for James E. English, 45,674; exclusive of the vote of six towns that gave English 11 majority last year. Subsequently the returns, as certified, gave English a trifling majority.

3. It was presently discovered in the minute examination to which the closeness of the contest led, that there were discrepancies and other reasons to suspect error in the returns from the towns of Cheshire and Enfield, and from the Fourth ward of New Haven. The Republicans believed these sufficient to turn the scale in favor of Jewell, or at least to bring the votes for the rival candidates so near each other that the few scattering ballots would prevent either from having a clear majority, and so throw the election, under the Constitution of Connecticut, into the Republican Legislature.

4. The Democrats resisted every step towards an investigation of the doubtful returns—in their local press, here in New York, and in the Legislature. The Republicans as steadily courted investigation.

5. When they secured it, through an order of the Legislature, their committee, fairly chosen, and acting with all the facts and witnesses before them, found,

(1.) That in Cheshire the Democratic Registrar directed the subtraction of 23 votes from the acknowledged number cast and counted for the Republican candidate, on the ground that 23 men whose ballots had been accepted were not duly qualified voters. Of the 23 thus specified it was proved that one did not vote at all, and there was no proof that the other 22 voted the Republican ticket, which had been therefore unwarrantably weakened by the withdrawal of their number from its aggregate vote. It was thereupon decided that the 23 wrongfully deducted here from Jewell's vote should be restored.

(2.) That in Enfield the indorsement on a package of straight Democratic tickets, numbering 76, was inadvertently read upside down, and counted as 96, thus giving Governor English 20 more votes than were actually cast for him. Both parties agreed as to this error, it was mooted by the Moderator on the face of his original return, and there has been no dispute about it since.

(3.) That in the Fourth ward of New Haven 100 straight Democratic tickets were fraudulently placed among the ballots during the counting. Subsequently, the clumsy cheats discovered that, in case of a recount, this must be detected, by comparison with the tally, and so sought to conceal the fraud by withdrawing 100 Republican tickets. The crime was detected by the gross contrast shown between the vote on the State ticket thus doctored, and that, in another box, for Representatives, which had not been tampered with. 479 votes were returned for Jewell, and the whole Republican State ticket, while it was not denied that the Republican candidate for Representative received 584, and for Board of Relief 596. The committee then summoned the voters before them as witnesses, and, thanks to the stable character of the population, and the profound interest felt in defeating the audacious fraud that had been attempted, five hundred and forty-four electors came before the committee, and severally swore to having voted for Jewell! The fraudulent abstraction of sixty-five ballots was proved beyond peradventure; and, with this light upon their path the committee found little difficulty in securing evidence fully warranting the report that precisely an even package of one hundred had been taken.

6. The several corrections thus established being made, the vote of Connecticut for Governor was proved to have been cast, 47,473 for Jewell, 47,373 for English, and 14 scattering, leaving Jewell elected by an absolute majority of 86 on the popular vote.

—That is the whole story. All honor to the State that was noble enough to reverse the current of Democratic victory, and sagacious enough to defeat secret villainy as well as open and manly hostility! And now let us commend to our late rejoicing Democratic friends a careful study of the returns from Connecticut!

THE CHINESE PUZZLE.

From the N. Y. Herald.

In all the writings of the Celestial Mohammed there is not perhaps a passage more frequently quoted and admired by his followers than this:—"When you would do anything, first consider; when you have considered, do it; then resume the tranquillity of your mind." There is not much profundity in the advice of Confucius; but then he was the Bunsby of his time, and his luminous remarks on everything, celestial and terrestrial, are still regarded with awe and reverence by the pig-tailed Cuttles of the Flowery Land. From a perusal of the extraordinary and highly interesting translation of the Chinese incendiary pamphlet which we published on Wednesday last, we gather that the mandarins and high officials of the Celestial empire have fully considered and determined on the policy to be pursued toward foreigners for the future. They have commenced to act, but it is to be seen whether they will be permitted by the Western nations to "resume the tranquillity of their minds." We are inclined to think that they will not. The butchery of the Sisters of Mercy and the Russian traders last June was but the beginning of a relentless war of extermination. The plan adopted by the bigoted opponents of the conciliatory policy of Prince Kung to incite the depraved common people to acts of murder and outrage was well suited to the purpose. The most villainous falsehoods concerning Christianity and the motives and objects of Christians were put forth in the pamphlet to which we have called attention, and distributed all over China in a manner that implied imperial sanction and approval. The "sacred edict" was quoted extensively and the "public records" referred to to prove that the writers were sustained by the Government at Pekin in their hostility to the foreign population. That they were so sustained and encouraged in their fell purpose the declaration of the Emperor, that no indemnity would be paid to families of the Europeans massacred at Tien-tsin, is sufficient evidence. And, indeed, the increasing difficulty experienced by the representatives of the Western nations in maintaining relations with the Chinese officials shows clearly enough that matters are approaching a crisis. While pretending to observe treaties they evade their obligations, and are more and more obstructive and insolent.

It may be true that the hatred now manifested by the Chinese towards the Christians is partly due to the injudicious zeal of the missionaries. But that this is not the main cause is very plain. The explanation of the present outbreak of fanatic hatred will be found in the fact that the mandarins perceive that, through the civilizing influences of Christianity, their hold on the masses is being gradually loosened and their position undermined. It is their interest to be conservative and exclusive. Left to themselves, the people would infinitely prefer prosperity and the "barbarians" to misery and the mandarins; but the gentlemen of the red buttons and peacocks' feathers are masters of the situation, and their mandates must be obeyed.

Truly the situation, as revealed to us by this extraordinary explanation of mandarin policy, is a Chinese puzzle. How is it to be solved by the West? We may enter into agreements with the mandarins—and they invariably beat us in diplomacy—and make treaties with them, but how can we insure their observance? It well suits the policy of the exclusive government of Pekin and its agents in the provinces to cover up the atrocities of the wretches they secretly incite to deeds of blood, by unmeaning proclamations and vermilion edicts; but the interests of our citizens, as well as those of the subjects of European nations doing business in China, demand that the mandarins should be taught a lesson. It is now generally admitted that the mission of Mr. Burlingame was a failure. The treaty entered into with France certainly did not prevent indiscriminate massacre of French subjects; and as it has been with the French it may be with us. The hostility of the Chinese is not confined to the citizens of any one country, but includes all foreigners in China. But the mission of Burlingame served the purpose of the Chinese, as it gave them time to prepare for the repudiation of all treaties previously made with the Western powers. Being now, as they suppose in their arrogance, prepared to resist any further attempts to spread Western civilization in China, they boldly proclaim their defiance. The result must be war. France, as soon as she recovers from her present helpless condition, will surely demand satisfaction for the murder of her citizens and exact an indemnity. We are prepared to learn that other nations have determined on measures for the security of the lives and property of their people in China. The sooner they do so the better, in our opinion. A coalition of the Governments of the West to obtain, by persuasion if possible, but by force of arms if necessary, proper guarantees that peaceful traders and Christian missionaries will not be molested or murdered, is the only solution of the Chinese puzzle that we can see.

THE NEW TREATY WITH ENGLAND.

From the N. Y. Times.

If there is anything more than empty talk in the often-expressed desire of the majority of mankind to see disputes between nations settled by arbitration, instead of by the sword, the "Treaty of Washington" ought to be received with rejoicing, not only by the nations chiefly concerned, but by the whole civilized world. It marks a great and unexpected advance towards that better age when it will be considered infamous for any ruler or people to declare war until every means of peaceable settlement has been tried in vain. Our own country has always taken the lead in negotiations of this character, and it is an immense security for the future peace of the world that Great Britain should now be joined with it. It would be impossible to overestimate the value of the example thus set to other nations. We are not so sanguine as to believe that after this there will be no more wars, but at a period when the people are everywhere exercising so powerful and direct a control over their Governments, it is not presumptuous to believe that, before war is declared, other nations will hereafter ask whether the precedent set by the United States and Great Britain cannot be followed. Before their blood is shed, and their treasure squandered, they will point their rulers to the example set by England and America. Thus, out of the Alabama claims, which have so long seemed an unmixed evil, great and lasting good may arise; and two great nations, which have so long stood in the foreground of civilization, and which have done and are doing a great and imperishable work, may not only be more closely knit together by ties of mutual respect and confidence, but may be the means of averting incalculable misery and suffering from other nations.

The principle of arbitration could not possibly be more fairly, thoroughly, or wisely applied to practical affairs than it is in this new treaty. The more closely it is studied, the more deeply will it commend itself to the common sense of the people on both sides the Atlantic. There may be disputes over minor points—but in all its main features, as well as in the principle upon which it is based, the treaty is the very model of fairness. Every difference existing between the two countries is referred to arbitrators whose perfect impartiality no living man can question. The world has been ransacked for men whose judgment would be utterly unbiassed, and before them our differences are to be laid, with full power of decision. The Alabama claims are to be adjudicated upon by five men selected on a principle which is so even-handed that all the statesmen of the age, if they discussed the matter for years, could not improve upon it. The claims of British subjects against the United States, and of American citizens against Great Britain, arising out of other causes than the escapes of the Rebel cruisers, are to be referred to a totally distinct commission, appointed in an equally just and honorable manner. The San Juan difficulty is to be referred to the arbitration of the Emperor of Germany, who is to have the absolute power of deciding upon it. In this way every point at issue has been treated. We say that a treaty of this kind is a splendid triumph of modern civilization, and an immortal contribution to the history of the two great nations between whom, we trust, it will be concluded.

The treaty not only provides for the settlement of outstanding differences, but it contains within it provisions which will render the recurrence of similar difficulties impossible. There are three short rules embodied in it which give the whole document a priceless value, and will form the most valuable addition to international law ever made. We quote these rules below, and ask our readers whether it would not be a crime to reject any treaty which contained them. Great Britain not only agrees to be bound by these rules in future, but further agrees to make them retrospective in their action—that is, she consents to have her liability for the escape of the Alabama decided as if these rules had been in existence when the occurrence took place. This is conceding all that she has hitherto denied—but it is in no spirit of boastfulness that we mention the fact. No just man will refuse credit to England for reversing her former policy on this question, and coming more than half way to meet us on the ground of reason and justice. Moreover, the treaty opens with a frank expression of "regret" on the part of her Majesty's Government "for the escape, under whatever circumstances, of the Alabama and other vessels from British ports, and for the depredations committed by those vessels." When we remember how impossible it seemed a few years ago to extract any such admission from the British Government, the importance of this apology—for such it is, although an apology becoming a great nation—will be increased in our estimation. As for the "rules" referred to, they will bear careful discussion at another time. For the present we leave the treaty to be read and studied by our readers. Let them regard it from whatever point of view they may, and we believe they will rise from its perusal with the conviction that a fairer basis for a settlement of our differences with Great Britain no human being or collection of human beings could devise. The commissioners who drew it up well deserve the gratitude and respect of both nations. We cannot believe that factious criticism in any quarter can prevent this treaty being ratified—but if it did, we might as well abandon finally the hope of settling disputes by peaceable arbitration, and make up our minds to resort to what has so long cursed the earth—the "arbitrament" of the sword.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

EXECUTRIX'S PEREMPTORY SALE.—Estate of Hanson Robinson, dec'd.—Thomas & Sons, Auctioneers.—Very Elegant Country Seat and Farm known as "Woolton Hall," Mansion, Farm, and Tenant Houses, 50 acres, Philadelphia and Wilmington Turnpike, Brandywine Hundred, New Castle county, Del., 3 squares from Bellevue Station, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad, half mile from the river Delaware, 3 miles from Wilmington, 9 miles from Chester, and 23 miles from Philadelphia. On Tuesday, May 16, 1871, at 12 o'clock, noon, will be sold at public sale, without any reserve whatever, at the Philadelphia Exchange—

All that very elegant country-seat and farm, comprising 50 acres of land, situate on the westerly side of the Philadelphia and Wilmington turnpike and on two private roads, three fronts, about 9 miles below Chester, 3 above Wilmington, 23 from Philadelphia, half mile of the river Delaware, and about 3 squares from Bellevue Station, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad. The improvements are an elegant and spacious three-story stone mansion, main building 49 by 48 feet, extreme length 91 feet, and circular piazza and portico around three sides of it; constructed on the castellated style of architecture, being built in the most substantial manner throughout; has large hall in the centre, saloon parlor, conservatory, dining-room, library, kitchen, scullery, store and china room, and fireproof safe on the first floor; 4 commodious chambers (each having a bath-room and marble-top stationary washstand, hot and cold water, water-closet) on the second floor; 4 chambers, 2 bath-rooms, and 2 water-tanks (which are supplied by 2 hydraulic rams—one of the tanks will contain 1500 gallons of spring water on the third floor, and an observatory above. Balconies, with windows opening to them from all the rooms; private stairway, numerous closets (including cedar and wine), stained glass windows, marble mantels, walls and ceilings beautifully frescoed, handsomely papered and painted, gas (with handsome fixtures) and water throughout, 5 bath-rooms, water-closets, bell-calls, 2 furnaces, cooking range, etc.

A genteel 2½-story stone farm house, two-story stone tenant house, stone stable and carriage house (Norman style), stalls for five horses; stone ice house, filled, with a keeping-room for provisions; frame tool house, stone and frame barn, gas house, built of stone, complete arrangement for making gas, the operation very simple; frame chicken house, 6 acres of woodland, a rivulet of pure spring water runs through it, and collected by a small dam, and carried 525 feet through iron pipes into the ram box, the surplus flowing into the pond; also a fish pond, beautiful stone wall on the turnpike front, capped with North river flagging; very elegant Osage orange hedge, forms a beautiful curve around the front lawn; the gravel drives about half-mile in length, ranging from 10 to 20 feet wide; are thoroughly made, paved with large stones and covered with broken stones and gravel, and underground drainage; large vegetable garden, beautiful lawn, in the centre of which is a handsome iron summer house, surrounded by beautiful trees; abundance of fruit trees, apple orchard, etc; also, 416 beautiful and well-grown forest and evergreen trees on the sides of the drives and around the mansion.

This property was built by the late Hanson Robinson, for his own occupancy, and no expense has been spared to make it a very elegant and finished country seat, all the materials being of the best, and the grounds beautifully laid out. The mansion is located in the centre of an extensive lawn, elevated ouer 200 feet above the river Delaware, and commands a beautiful and extended view up and down the river and surroundings.

The location is especially healthy. Photographs, plans, and pamphlets, containing more full particulars, may be seen at the Auction Rooms, Philadelphia, or at the office of Samuel M. Harrington, Esq., Attorney for the Executrix, second story, building, Seventh and Market streets, Wilmington, Delaware, where any one wishing to view the premises can get a conveyance. Trains leave Philadelphia at 8·30 and 11 A. M., and 2·30, 5, and 7 P. M. for Bellevue Station. The house and premises will be ready for inspection at all times. On Tuesdays and Fridays of each week a carriage will be at Bellevue Station on the arrival of 11 A. M. and 2·30 P. M. trains from Philadelphia, to convey visitors to the property.

Terms of Sale.—Two-thirds of the purchase money may remain on the premises, to be secured, with interest, etc., by bond and mortgage, with policy of fire insurance transferred as collateral.

Immediate possession. $1000 to be paid at time of sale.

NEWS SUMMARY.

City Affairs.

—J. Herbert, the publisher of a local journal called the Protectionist, was yesterday held by Alderman Kerr in bail to answer for obtaining money under false pretenses. The substance of the testimony against the defendant was that he collected money for advertisements while his paper was in a state of suspension.

—The cigar manufacturers, at a meeting last evening, protested against the revenue law which requires them to keep the retail and the manufacturing departments in different buildings, or different parts of the same building.

Domestic Affairs.

—The lower branch of the Texas Legislature has removed its Speaker, Hon. Mr. Evans, and elected Hon. Mr. Sinclair in his place.

—The physicians appointed to examine into the mental condition of Rulloff, the Binghamton murderer, report him to be entirely sane.

—A fire at Bryan, Texas, on Thursday destroyed a block of buildings, causing a loss of $190,000, on which there was but $50,000 insurance.

—By a collision of trains on the New York and Erie Railroad, near Attica, N. Y., yesterday morning, five children were killed and fourteen adults wounded.

—The United States Senate is very much exercised over the premature publication of the Washington Treaty, and that body yesterday earnestly discussed the subject.

—The examination of midshipmen at the Naval School, at Annapolis, Md., commences to-day week, and there are forty-nine members attached to the graduating class.

—Much interest is being manifested in the International Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations, which is to be held on the 24th inst. at Washington, D. C.

Foreign Affairs.

—Bonapartist organizations are said to exist throughout France.

—The Versailles batteries maintain a terrific fire upon the ramparts of Paris.

—The Commune continues to suppress objectionable newspapers and religious institutions.

—Commune emissaries are arranging for the convocation of four municipal congresses, at Bordeaux, Lyons, Nantes and Lille.

—Bismarck, yesterday, gave to the German Parliament the particulars of his recent visit to Frankfort to confer with Favre and Quertier.

—The Committee on Public Safety, in a proclamation, tells the people of Paris that the recent disasters to the arms of the insurgents were caused through treason, and that a court-martial is now sitting to try the accused parties.

AN EVENT EXTRAORDINARY.

The Departure of the Great and Good Horace Greeley for Texas.

At 8 o'clock yesterday morning a carriage was driven to the Tribune office. A coachman and a russet leather trunk lettered "H. G." sat upon the box. As soon as the carriage stopped, it was seen by old Mr. Jenny, of the Tribune editorial staff. Old Mr. Jenny was of course crazy until he had learned who the carriage was for. A small boy told him it was for Mr. Greeley, whereupon old Mr. Jenny dashed up the stairs leading to Mr. Greeley's room, and breathlessly informed him of the fact that the carriage was waiting. Mr. Greeley stopped writing, drew his spectacles from his nose, put a wide-brimmed hat on his head side foremost, slipped his arms into a brown spring overcoat, leaving the collar turned under, seized a small leather bag, and sloped for the counting-room.

"Tell Sam," said he to old Mr. Jenny, "not to take any lottery advertisements while I'm gone, and to watch the quack ads. I'm going to Texas."

The last words reached old Mr. Jenny's ears as Mr. Greeley struck the sidewalk. On approaching the carriage, Mr. Greeley stopped as if he had forgotten something. Old Mr. Jenny saw him. He rushed to his side.

"And tell Whitelaw," said Mr. Greeley, while his eyes beamed on old Mr. Jenny, "that he had better watch Hassard's letters from Boston, for he is a Catholic, and he might say something that our country readers wouldn't like. And tell Whitelaw," continued Mr. Greeley, as old Mr. Jenny was about to rush into the office, "that I want him to watch the papers and print the official election returns from Alaska, because our people expect to see them. Tell him to put them in nonpareil half-measure, like the election returns from Connecticut. And, Ephraim, tell Whitelaw," continued Mr. Greeley, as old Mr. Jenny made another attempt to dash into the office, "not to print any more d——d stuff about abducted girls or panel-houses. Our people have got enough of that sort of thing."

The wide-brimmed hat and Mr. Greeley were safely deposited in the ticket office. Mr. Greeley stared vacantly for a moment at the ticket agent. Suddenly collecting himself, he felt in four pockets consecutively, and then seemed to again lose himself in thought. After another mental rally, he pushed up a through ticket on the Pan Handle line for Cincinnati, and approached Dick Shields, the baggage clerk.

"I want that check trunked to—to—to Cincinnati," said Mr. Greeley, hesitatingly, "for I'm going to Texas."

He will arrive in New Orleans on Sunday, and will dine with the representatives of the press. On Tuesday he will go to Galveston, and thence to several smaller towns, arriving in Houston about the 23d, where he will deliver an address before the State Agricultural Society.—New York Sun.

THE MURDER OF MRS. PETERS.

Capture of the Supposed Murderer.

A person who is believed to be the one who was seen lurking about the farm of Mr. Peters, six miles south of Belleville, on the day of the murder of Mrs. Mary Peters, was caught in the woods about fourteen miles south of Potosi, Missouri, on Friday last, by James D. Arnold and E. F. Quine, acting deputy sheriffs of Washington county. Immediately after the arrest had been made, the fact was telegraphed to Sheriff Hughes, of St. Clair county, Illinois, who in response telegraphed the sheriff of Washington county, Mr. J. T. Clarke, to hold the prisoner. On Monday Sheriff Hughes, accompanied by Mr. Charles T. Askins, of Centreville, went down for the accused, and brought him to St. Louis yesterday morning. They then took him to Belleville, where he was at once placed in the county jail.

The news of the capture soon spread through the surrounding country, and hundreds of people came in expecting that the preliminary examination would come off in the afternoon. A large crowd of people congregated about the court-house, where they remained till a late hour in the evening. The murder was fully and freely discussed, but no disturbance took place. No definite time has yet been fixed for the preliminary examination, which will probably not take place for several days. Precautionary measures have been taken for the protection and security of the prisoner.

The accused says his name is Joseph White, and that he is twenty-six years of age. He is an Irishman by birth, and has resided in the United States about six and a half years. On the way up he stated to the officers who had him in charge that he had been confined in the jail at Baltimore, and also that he had served a term of six months in the work-house in the city of Louisville, Ky. He tells many conflicting stories, but says that he was in the neighborhood on the evening of the occurrence of the murder, and that he had quarrelled with Mrs. Peters because she had declined to provide him with supper. He also admitted that he had been in the little town of Centreville on the day of the murder, and while there he had gone into a store and begged for some matches, which were given him, as has been previously stated by us. When arrested he had on a different pair of pantaloons from those worn on the day of the murder, but still retained the old pair which he had tied up in a red handkerchief, and which gave token that they had recently been washed. There is a spot or stain on one of the legs of the pantaloons which has the appearance of blood. He manifests no concern whatever.

Much credit is due the officials of Washington county for effecting the arrest of White, and also for guarding him safely after his capture and incarceration.—St. Louis Republican, May 10.

FRIGHTFUL MURDER.

A Young Man Kills his Mother and Sister.

From the Terre Haute Express, May 4.

A terrible homicide was commited on Saturday morning about two and a half miles from Newton, in Jasper county, Ill. A young man by the name of Lafayette Shepherd killed his mother and young sister in a most brutal manner. The old woman and the girl went out to the stable in the morning to milk the cows, when they were set upon by the son with an axe, and so horribly mangled that the mother died in a few minutes, and the girl after lingering a few hours. Shepherd immediately fled from the neighborhood, but was pursued and caught on Saturday evening at Olney, where he was hiding. He is said to be insane. His brothers and sisters attempted to screen the act of the brother, and gave a false account of the manner in which the injuries to their mother and sister were inflicted, and as to the whereabouts of Lafayette. The whole family were promptly arrested and taken to Marshall, Lafayette charged with murder, and the balance as accessories to the fact. There was a hearing on habeas corpus before Justice Decius progressing on yesterday at Marshall for the purpose of procuring the release of the brothers and sisters, but had not been determined at the time our informant left. There is great excitement in the neighborhood where the act was committed, and the whole family are threatened with lynch law.

CITY ITEMS.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.—WILBOR'S COD LIVER OIL AND LIME has now been before the public for ten years, and has steadily grown into favor and appreciation. This could not be the case unless the preparation was of undoubted and high intrinsic value. The combination of the Phosphate of Lime with pure Cod Liver Oil, as prepared by Dr. Wilbor, has produced a new phase in the treatment of Consumption and all diseases of the Lungs. This article can be taken by the most delicate invalid without creating the disgusting nausea which is such a prominent objection to the Cod Liver Oil when taken without Lime. This preparation is prescribed by the regular faculty, and sold by the proprietor, wholesale and retail, A. B. WILBOR, Chemist, No. 166 Court Street, Boston, and by druggists generally.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO GENTLEMEN.—If any citizen or stranger should entertain the impression that Jones & Temple, No. 929 Chesnut street, are not the leading manufacturers of First Class Silk Hats, let them view the grand German parade on next Monday, and they will be able to form a correct idea on the subject, and be convinced that the silk hats manufactured by Jones & Temple are unequalled in elegance of style and superiority of workmanship.

MR. WILLIAM W. CASSIDY, the jeweller at No. 8 South Second street, has one of the largest and most attractive stocks of all kinds of Jewelry and Silverware in the city. He has also on hand a fine assortment of fine American Western Watches. Those who purchase at this store at the present time are certain to get the worth of their money.

EVERY MOTHER who regards the life and health of her child should possess MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It is an old and well-tried remedy.

FIRST MORTGAGE
7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,
On a Completed Road,
Free of U. S. Tax,
At 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids, and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these Bonds an established character equal to any mortgage issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis, for temporary or permanent investments, with Governments or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids, and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 9⅜ per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Government pays at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for reinvestment.

All marketable securities taken in exchange, free of commission and express charges.

THE LAST MOVE OF THE WASHINGTON SQUARE RING.

The Washington Square property-holders having failed to procure the abolition of the Building Commission, have made a fresh start by procuring the introduction of a bill in the Senate to suspend the operations of the commission until the next general election, when the question of its continuance or discontinuance shall be submitted to the voters of Philadelphia. This bill was introduced by Mr. Connell yesterday morning, was reported almost immediately by the Committee on Municipal Corporations, and was finally passed yesterday afternoon. This was tolerably lively legislation, to say the least of it. The anti-Penn Squareites are evidently playing this bill as their last and strongest card, relying upon the apparent fairness of it and upon the popular obliviousness to the large-sized snake concealed under it to secure the object for which they have been laboring.

The primary object of the bill is to get the subject of the Building Commission before the House, when it is hoped that a majority can be commanded who will do the bidding of the ring of property-holders who desire to have the public buildings erected on the site that has been rejected by the people of Philadelphia. If this bill is brought before the House, it will be an easy thing by the aid of a simple majority to amend it so as to abolish the Building Commission absolutely; and this is just what the men at whose instance it was passed by the Senate expect to accomplish. Let the Committee on Municipal Corporations of the House therefore resolutely refuse to consent to this or any other proposition to interfere with the commission, which is engaged in carrying out the wishes of a vast majority of the people of this city in an eminently satisfactory manner. The commission has done nothing, from the day of its appointment to the present time, to justify the clamor raised against it by men whose interested motives deprive their arguments and vituperations of all force, and if allowed to carry out the work it has in hand without interference, it will give Philadelphia a handsome municipal edifice that will be an ornament to the city and a source of pride to future generations. The erection of the public buildings has certainly been delayed long enough, but if it depends upon the Washington Square party they will never be erected at all unless upon that or some contiguous site; and the only way to settle the matter is to let the commission go on with its work without further interference. The people of this city are heartily sick of the whole controversy about the public buildings, and we appeal to the Legislature to interfere no more, but to permit this great municipal enterprise to proceed in accordance with the already plainly-expressed will of the majority. If Mr. Connell's bill passes and the anti-Penn Squareites suffer another defeat at the polls, they will start some new issue and perhaps demand another popular vote; and so the contest will go on for years without any practical results. The whole difficulty can be settled now in a proper manner by the House of Representatives refusing to accede to the demands of the anti-Penn Squareites, and by giving them plainly to understand that they can expect no aid of any kind at Harrisburg now or in the future.

AN INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

A BILL creating an Insurance Department has recently been presented in the State Legislature and published in THE TELEGRAPH. Its leading feature consists in the transfer to a new official of the business and duties connected with insurance which are now entrusted to the Auditor-General—a change which in itself will be of comparatively little utility unless it tends to awaken increased interest and attention to the general subject. In one respect the proposed reform would be likely to be detrimental to the State. The Auditor-General, being an elective officer, chosen by the people of the whole State, is usually a man of wide reputation for honesty and capacity, whereas the proposed Superintendent of Insurance would be an appointee of the Governor; and if he proved a mere mercenary spoils-hunter he might enrich himself by blackmailing good insurance companies and by conniving at the operations of fraudulent institutions.

At the same time there is no doubt that insurance has attained such a magnitude that additional legislation is needed to protect the public from imposition and to secure an honest and faithful administration of the affairs of the respective companies. Perhaps the best method of attaining this end would be to apply a principle like that Sidney Smith proposed to apply to railway travel as a preventive of accidents. He suggested that directors should be put on the locomotives of passenger trains, and it would be well to provide that the directors of insurance companies should not only be made liable pecuniarily for the acts of the companies they control, but that they should also be punished criminally for any specially grievous act of wrong-doing. It is becoming a practical question, in some instances, whether there is not a necessity for insuring those who have undertaken to insure property and lives; and while good and responsible companies abound, an overabundance of "tricks that are vain" are practised by agents and officials connected with some of the companies. Insurance is, inherently, such a useful and essential part of the economy of modern life, that it would be exceedingly unfortunate if the public confidence in it was materially diminished or destroyed; but in view of the numerous misrepresentations made from time to time by untruthful agents, the obscure clauses inserted in some policies, and the occasional efforts to evade their obligations, as well as the financial collapse, now and then, of an insurance company, it is evident that new safeguards must be thrown around the system before it can be made as perfect as it ought to be. This is not an easy task, but it would be a very proper and commendable one for the Legislature; and if that body will seriously undertake to devise means for discriminating between good and bad companies, and for prosecuting criminally, as swindlers, all directors or agents who obtain the money of the public by false representations, it will do a great deal more good than is to be accomplished by the mere creation of a lucrative new office. The subject of insurance should be carefully considered in all its bearings, and a comprehensive system adopted that would ward off all the existing dangers and reform all the prevailing abuses.

"THE PUBLIC RECORD" to-day completed the first year of its publication. It is seldom that a new journalistic enterprise can make such a good showing on the first anniversary of its establishment. By a studied attempt to meet a popular demand, enterprise in obtaining the latest and most reliable news without regard to expense, and a calm, dispassionate, and impartial discussion of the questions of the day, the Public Record has fairly achieved the large measure of success which it has merited.

OUR RELIGIOUS COLUMN.

THE HEAVENWARD MARCH.

We leave now behind us
The world and its crowd;
We set now before us
The home of our God.

We take up our cross now
To follow the Lamb,
We close round His banner,
For glory or shame.

We take up the armor
Our Captain hath given,
The sword and the breastplate,
The helmet of heaven.

In faith thus defying
The foe and the sin,
We fight our life's battle;
We fight and we win.

THE WONDERS OF PRAYER.

Abraham's servant prays—Rebekah appears. Jacob wrestles and prays, and prevails with Christ—Esau's mind is wonderfully turned from the revengeful purpose he had harbored for twenty years. Moses prays—Amalek is discomfited. Joshua prays—Achan is discovered. Hannah prays—Samuel is born. David prays—Ahithopel hangs himself. Asa prays—a victory is gained. Jehosophat cries to God—God turns away his foes. Isaiah and Hezekiah pray—185,000 Assyrians are dead in twelve hours. Daniel prays—the lions are muzzled. Daniel prays—the seventy weeks are revealed. Mordecai and Esther fast—Haman is hanged on his own gallows in three days. Ezra prays a prayer—the king's heart is softened in a minute. Elijah prays—a drought of three years succeeds. Elijah prays—rain descends apace. Elisha prays—Jordan is divided. Elisha prays—a child's soul comes back; for prayer reaches eternity. The Church prays ardently—Peter is delivered by an an gel.

SUMMARY OF CHURCH NEWS.

PRESBYTERIAN.

—The congregation of the Fourth Reformed Presbyterian Church occupied their church building in Forty-eighth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, New York, on Sabbath, 7th inst., for the first time. The congregation was organized in February, 1870, with 80 members, and now has 103 members. Since their organization they have been worshipping at the Harvard rooms, corner of Forty-second street and Sixth avenue. The building dedicated was built originally by the Church of the Pilgrims; they disposed of it to the Free Methodists, who have now made it over to Mr. Kennedy's congregation.

—A correspondent of the Southern Presbyterian writes that the new Presbyterian Church at Shreveport, La., is nearly completed—a noble edifice, and will cost not less than $30,000—perhaps more. They already report more than one hundred members and fifteen Sabbath-school scholars. A noble female school too is inaugurated, already numbering ninety-five pupils, and still increasing, directly under Presbyterian auspices, though entirely a private enterprise.

—The Presbytery of New Orleans reports 20 Sabbath-schools within its bounds, with 330 teachers and 3000 scholars. Average attendance of scholars, 2000. Ten teachers and 53 scholars have professed faith in Christ. Contributions for their own use by these schools, $6654; for missionary purposes, $352. All the pastors preach to the children. In the schools the Scriptures and Shorter Catechism are memorized.

—A Presbyterian church edifice was recently erected in Muhlenberg county, Ky., by means of subscriptions which a young lady member collected, while riding horseback across the country. Other young ladies papered the walls themselves, and the young men of the congregation lent cheerful hands for the carpentry work and plastering.

—The new Presbyterian chapel at Petersburg, Va., at the head of Old street, is rapidly approaching completion, and presents a flattering contrast to its venerable predecessor.

—The Presbyterian church at Manchester (opposite Richmond, Va.), has been commenced.

—The Cumberland Presbyterian, published at Alton, Illinois, says that within the circuit from which it draws its religious intelligence there have been 2078 professions and 2104 accessions to its denomination within the months of January, February, and March.

BAPTIST.

—The Baptist Hand-Book, of London, reports for the United Kingdom a total of 2004 ministers, 3568 churches, 3093 chapels, and 233,675 members of the denomination. A loss is shown in the aggregate membership of 3760, and a decrease in the number of ministers of 500. After Great Britain, European Baptists are numerically strongest in Germany, where they have 72 churches and 13,509 members, and in Sweden, where there are 207 churches and 8120 members.

—Nearly sixty have been added to the Coliseum Place Church, New Orleans, since last November, and the spiritual tone and interest are widening and deepening. Inquirers and converts are found almost every week. The congregation has sprung up to almost first-class dimensions, the Sunday-school is the largest in the city, and the prayer meetings are a power by reason of size and spirit, and the presence of the Lord.

—Sunday afternoon, June 19, 1870, a committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of the Tenth Baptist Church issued a call for a public meeting, for the purpose of starting a "Mission Sunday-school, in the hall at Twelfth and Montgomery avenue," in this city. Previously the field had been well canvassed, and the committee were satisfied that a Baptist church was needed in this locality. The meeting was largely attended, and a new church will be established.

—On the whole Eastern Shore of Maryland, comprising nine counties, and a population of at least 200,000 souls, there is not a single Baptist pastor. Two or three of the churches have a temporary supply for the pulpit.

—The Baptists have seven schools for freedmen in the South, as follows:—The Wayland Seminary, at Washington; Colver Institute, Richmond, Va.; Shaw Collegiate Institute, Raleigh, N. C.; Benedict Institute, Columbia, S. C.; Augusta Institute, Augusta, Ga.; Leland University, New Orleans, La.; Nashville Institute, Nashville, Tenn. These schools, says the American Baptist, have grounds and buildings valued at over one hundred thousand dollars, and are every cent paid for.

CONGREGATIONAL.

—Mr. Beecher read, on a late Sabbath, the names of 117 applicants for admission to Plymouth Church, Brooklyn; 102 by profession and 15 by letter.

—Fifteen persons were received into the Second Congregational Church of Greenwich, Connecticut, last Sabbath, twelve of whom joined on profession. At the close of the services the pastor, the Rev. F. G. Clark, D. D., gave notice of his intended resignation, which is to take effect June 1. Dr. Clark will reside in New York, at No. 424 West Twenty-second street.

—Miss Jennie E. Chapin, a member of the New England Church, Chicago, has recently left for the missionary work in North China the ladies of that church undertaking her support.

—Mr. J. Warren Stanton offers the First Church in Stonington, Conn., $10,000, and the Second Church (of which he is a member) $25,000, on condition that they each raise by subscription an amount equal to their respective gifts, the whole to remain as a permanent fund for the society.

—Mr. M. Matthewson, for several years in the service of the American Seamen's Friend Society as sailor missionary at Buenos Ayres, South America, was licensed to preach the gospel at the April meeting of the New York and Brooklyn Association of Congregational Ministers. He expects to go to Denmark as a missionary.

—Rev. L. Smith Hobart, of the American Home Missionary Society, has removed from Syracuse to New York city, in part to repair the lack of service of the Rev. Dr. Badger, who is feeling the infirmities of age somewhat. He will publish the Excelsior in New York, and supervise the Home Mission interests of his denomination in New York and New Jersey.

—Bangor Theological Seminary has at the present time 31 students; of whom 1 is a resident licentiate, 12 are in the Senior class, 9 in the Middle class, and 9 in the Junior class.

REFORMED.

—The South Classis of Bergen, N. J., of the Reformed Church has petitioned the synod for a division of the classis, on account of its large size and rapid increase. The proposed new classis will combine the churches of Newark and Belleville.

—During the past winter there has been an interesting work of grace in all of the churches in Canajoharie, N. Y., in which the Reformed Church largely participated. At the last communion forty-seven were added to the membership, of whom thirty-six were on confession.

—The Rev. J. Hustead Carroll, D. D., pastor of the Lee Avenue Reformed Church, Brooklyn, E. D., preached his second anniversary sermon last Sabbath. During the first year of his pastorate the church subscribed for benevolent purposes $10,288; and during the second year, $12,874·80. During the last year the congregation has paid for the church $6631·92, aside from pew rents. The number of families attending has increased from 160 to 340, and the number of church members from 304 to 550.

—The Rev. James L. Amerman, of Richboro, Pa., was installed pastor of the Reformed Church last Sunday. The Rev. B. C. Taylor, D. D., the retiring pastor, has had charge of the church for nearly forty-three years.

EPISCOPAL.

—The Austin (Texas) Opera House gave a benefit lately for St. David's Episcopal Church of that city. The play was Dot; or, the Cricket on the Hearth, and the farce was The Biter Bit. The only stipulation made by the rector, the Rev. B. A. Rogers, was the performance should not take place in Lent.

—The Rev. William H. Cooper, D. D., presbyter, was deposed on April 14, by Bishop Henry W. Lee, from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in accordance with Canon 5, Section 1, Title 2, of the Digest.

—Three members of the Brothers of St. John, a religious order attached to the Church of England, have arrived in Baltimore, Md., and on a recent Sunday held service in several of the Episcopal churches.

—Mr. J. Owen Dorsey, recently ordained in Maryland, will take charge of a new mission among the Ponka tribe of Indians, in Nebraska.

—Mr. James F. Conover, editor of the Detroit Tribune, has resigned his position, in order to become a minister of the Episcopal Church. He has been connected with the Detroit newspapers for eighteen years.

METHODIST.

—The Methodist Church has been singularly unfortunate in losing so many bishops within a short period of time; and Bishop Clark, of Cincinnati, is now lying in a very critical condition, and little hopes entertained of his recovery.

—Grace Church, Wilmington, has started another mission. A spacious building, thirty by forty feet, was erected in a day or two in the needed locality, and a Sabbath-school is already organized, and divine service held there regularly.

—There are 21 United Methodist Free Churches in Australia, 5 itinerant ministers, and 13 local preachers.

—The annual meeting of the Bishops, Board of Missions, Publishing Committee, and Sunday-school Convention of the Methodist Church South, will take place in May, in Nashville, Tenn.

—The Pittsburg Advocate asserts that the "Methodist Church is the feeblest in Christendom for missionary work; the American Board sent out last year more men than all the Methodists have in foreign lands."

—On a recent Sabbath, the pastor of a Methodist church in Maine baptized 16 converts by immersion, and 2 by sprinkling.

—Dr. B. Jenkins, of the China Mission, died at Shanghai March 13.

—A letter from the Lucknow Mission states that a famous preacher of the Brahmo Somaj, a friend of Keshnb Chunder Sen, the leader of this Unitarian Hindu sect, has been converted and baptized into the Methodist communion.

—A prominent Methodist gentleman in Syracuse, N. Y., has purchased the St. Charles Hotel and some adjoining property, which he proposes to give to the Methodist Book Concern of New York, to be used for the establishment of a branch publishing house.

LUTHERAN.

—"Insulanus," after giving in detail the number confirmed during the Easter festival in the several Lutheran churches in the city of New York, sums up the aggregate admissions at 1400.

—A young and enterprising merchant in Baltimore, Md., has founded a lectureship of $1000 in the Gettysburg Seminary, the interest of which is annually to be appropriated to one or more lectures on "The method of the ministerial work."

MORAVIAN.

—The report of the Leper Hospital at Jerusalem shows that though this institution has been established but three years, it is well known on both banks of the Jordan. The house is already full, and the inmates are mostly Arabs, who are Mohammedans. Their rudeness is giving place to a mild deportment; they listen to the reading of the Scriptures, and frequently ask questions about the lessons. The care of the hospital is a most self-denying work, as may well be imagined from the nature of the disease.

—The statistical returns of the Moravian congregations in Great Britain for 1870 give a total of 5423 members, including 3236 communicants, showing a decrease of 48 since the previous return. Forty-five chapels and preaching places have been maintained.

—Eighteen years ago there was but one Moravian church in Philadelphia; now there are three churches and one mission. For the use of the mission a chapel will soon be erected on Hancock street.

FRIENDS.

—At Friends' Quarterly Meeting in Wilmington, on a late Tuesday, Deborah Wharton, of Philadelphia, preached a sermon very rich in gospel truth. Two young ministers, Martha Travella and Lydia Price, from West Chester, also discoursed to the satisfaction of the audience.

—A Generous Donation.—The Friends' Tract Society has donated to the Philadelphia Tract and Mission Society, No. 1224 Chesnut street, 60,000 English and 12,000 German tracts, four pages, on "Profane Swearing," to be circulated over the city in June.

UNION PRAYER MEETINGS.

—The union prayer meetings will be held at the Central Presbyterian Church (colored), on Sabbath afternoon, 14th inst., at 4½ o'clock, and on Monday afternoon, 15th inst., at 5 o'clock, at the Chapel of the M. E. Church, Broad and Arch streets. Ministers and all others are cordially invited to attend. Subject for prayer—"The gift of the Holy Spirit."

LITERATURE.

REVIEW OF NEW BOOKS.

—"John Woolman's Journal" is a work that many persons have heard of and that but few have read. One of the pioneers of the anti-slavery movement in this country, the great result for which, he an humble workingman, earnestly labored in the face of an opposition that appeared all powerful, has been accomplished, and the day has now come when the rare beauty of his writings can be appreciated by those who ten brief years ago would have turned from them in disgust. As a record of the anti-slavery movement of the last century and of the earnest protests made by the Society of Friends against the system of human bondage both before and after the revolution, this Journal has a positive historical value, but it will be even more appreciated by the majority of readers on account of the genial and kindly Christian spirit in which it is written, for in no work of the kind with which we are acquainted has the writer more thoroughly revealed himself. A new edition of "John Woolman's Journal" has just been issued by James R. Osgood & Co., to which Mr. John G. Whittier has written an introduction, which furnishes a number of facts of interest with regard to Woolman, and which is well calculated to excite the interest of the reader and to persuade him to attentively peruse the work itself. For sale in this city by Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger.

—"A Hand-book of Progressive Philosophy," by Edward Schiller, published by J. S. Redfield, is a rapid and necessarily superficial review of the different systems of philosophy, and an attempt to reconcile the truths which they set forth with true as distinguished from merely ceremonial religion. The author's idea appears to be that all earnest efforts to find out the truth are entitled to respect and sympathy, although it is not apparent what his main object really is. The principal value of his work is that it presents in a compact shape a statement of the leading principles of the different philosophical schools, and students will find it a useful hand-book, even if it is not altogether reliable as an authority upon all points. For sale by Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger.

—"Three Successful Girls," by Julia Crouch, published by Hurd & Houghton, is an attempt in somewhat the same vein as the very popular stories of Miss Alcott. It is a pleasantly written narrative of home life, in which there is perhaps a trifle too much preaching, but which, in spite of this, will be found by many young people to be entertaining. For sale by Porter & Coates.

—"Heat," by Jacob Abbott, is the first of a series entitled "Science for the Young" in course of preparation by Harper & Brothers. There is no living writer for the young who understands better than Jacob Abbott how to make hard substantial facts attractive to boys and girls. The peculiar kind of sugar which he uses makes the pills of knowledge which it envelopes peculiarly palatable to juvenile readers, and in the work before us he has set forth and illustrated the subject of heat in a style that can scarcely fail to tickle the imaginations of our young philosophers. For sale by Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger.

—"A Smaller Scripture History," by William Smith, D. C. L., LL. D., is a condensation of the larger work of the same author, and is intended especially for the junior classes in schools and for family use. The whole subject is presented in one volume of moderate size, which gives the histories of the Old and New Testaments, with a reasonably complete account of the connecting period. The "contents" are drawn up in such a manner as to form a chronological table, and tables of weights, measures, and money are given at the end of the book. Published by Harper & Brothers, and for sale in this city by Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger.

—"Desk and Debit," published by Lea & Shepard, is the third of the "Upward and Onward" series, and in it the hero, "Phil Farneyford," seriously commences life as a clerk. The story is intended to show the importance of good principles and attention to Christian duties. For sale by J. B. Lippincott & Co.

—T. B. Peterson & Brothers have just published the following works of fiction:—

"Tried for Her Life," by Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southwork, is a sequel to that popular writer's novel of "Cruel as the Grave," and is quite as interesting as that work.

"The Countess of Monte Christo" is a companion novel to Dumas' famous work; not by Dumas, however. It is very Frenchy in its style, and will not commend itself to superfastidious readers.

—The May numbers of The Sunday Magazine, Good Words, and Good Words for the Young, have been issued by J. B. Lippincott & Co. These magazines are, as usual, handsomely illustrated, and are filled with excellent stories, sketches, essays, and poems from the pens of some of the best writers of the day.

—From Messrs. Scribner & Co. we have received proof copies, with autographs, of the portraits of the artists A. B. Durand and D. Huntington, and also of Mr. T. Moran's drawing of the "Canon of the Yellowstone," which appeared in the May number of Scribner's Monthly. These all have much merit as works of art, and the excellent manner in which they are gotten up is highly creditable to the publishers.

—The Penn Monthly for May contains several ably-written articles on important topics, and a number of excellent reviews of new books. For sale by Porter & Coates.

—The May number of The Philadelphia Photographer presents a variety of interesting information on photographic subjects.

—Our Schoolday Visitor for May offers its young readers an excellent variety of stories, sketches, and poetry.

—From the Central News Company we have received The St. James Magazine and the latest numbers of Punch and Fun.

—Mrs. E. D. Wallace, whose play of Little Dorrit will be pleasantly remembered by many of our readers, has now in press a romance the scenes of which are located in Germany and Italy, and the author will doubtless introduce some interesting reminiscences of her own European experiences. Mrs. Wallace is a writer of talent, and her venture in the field of romance is highly spoken of by those who have had an opportunity to peruse some of its chapters. We shall look for it with interest. The new novel will be entitled "Strife."

A FAST LOUISIANA SENATOR.

He Steals $15,000 of State Funds, and Attempts to Commit Suicide.

From the N. O. Picayune, May 3.

The gossipping circles of our city were considerably agitated on Tuesday by the announcement that a member of the Louisiana State Senate had attempted to commit suicide on Monday by shooting himself in the head with a Derringer pistol, at his rooms in the Second district.

Various conjectures were indulged in as to the immediate cause of the rash attempt, and, although it was generally conceded that the party in question had been living a very fast life, even for a dash Louisiana State legislator, it was not known that he was seriously embarrassed financially. Upon investigating the matter on Wednesday, however, the representative of the Picayune discovered, upon application to the State Auditor, that the party in question, who holds or held the position of State tax collector for one of the outlying parishes, was a defaulter to the State in the sum of fourteen or fifteen thousand dollars; that the State Auditor had made an affidavit against him for embezzlement, and that a warrant had been already issued for his arrest. We may say just here that when our representative called upon Mr. Graham he had not heard the report of the attempted suicide of the party against whom he was proceeding criminally. The Senator in question is quite a horse-fancier, and has been in the habit of driving out very handsome and fast turnouts of his own upon the road, one of which he recently disposed of at a great sacrifice to a brother Senator, thus giving the impression that he was in straitened circumstances. There are a number of suggestive incidents connected with the life of the accused during his residence in our city, which, if given, might afford much food for gossip and scandal; but, as we have only to do with the public acts of individuals, they shall, unless brought out by trial, be withheld from our columns. At last accounts the wounded man was lying in a critical state, it being doubtful whether he can recover from the self-inflicted wound.

LAGER BEER, ALE, AND PORTER, APPARATUS.
W. W. FENNER,
No. 127 NORTH SIXTH STREET,
Sole Agent for Strater's Patent.

This machine is entirely different from the old style Beer Pump. It performs its own work, and requires no labor. The liquors are forced up from the cellar to the bar-room by means of a pressure of air made by force of water, and can be drawn just as clear as directly from the barrel.

Among the many advantages claimed for this machine are, that the beer or ale never becomes flat, and can be drawn as cold as ice water with very small expense of ice.

The Apparatus can always be seen at my place in operation, or at any of the principal saloons in this city. 5 6 stuth12t*

PROPOSALS.

IRON FOR LANDING PIER, NEAR LEWES, DELAWARE.

UNITED STATES ENGINEER'S OFFICE, PHILADELPHIA, Pa., No. 1330 CHESNUT STREET, May 6, 1871.

SEALED PROPOSALS, in duplicate, of the form furnished by the undersigned, with a copy of this advertisement attached to each, will be received at this Office until 12 o'clock M. on MONDAY, the 12th day of June, 1871, for the supply of Wrought and Cast Iron required for this work.

The iron must be delivered on the railroad pier at Lewes, or at the works where made.

The bids will state carefully the proposed places of delivery, with the corresponding prices.

There will be required for the pier about one million eight hundred thousand pounds of rolled and hammered iron, and about three hundred and forty thousand pounds of cast iron.

The present letting will be for about 600,000 pounds of wrought iron and about 140,000 pounds of cast iron.

Specifications and drawings can be seen at this Office, where information will be supplied on application. Envelopes to be endorsed "Proposals for Iron."

DAS FRIEDENFEST.

The Services To-day and To-morrow—The Route Finally Fixed—More Particulars.

This morning, in a number of synagogues, the Peace Festival was commenced with appropriate religious exercises. At Rodef Sholem, at Broad and Mount Vernon streets, Dr. M. Jastrow delivered a discourse in German, and at the Synagogue of Beth Israel, in a similar service, Rev. C. Thalmann officiated.

To-morrow morning services appropriate to the occasion will take place in the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Franklin street, near Vine, Rev. Dr. Mann; in St. John's Lutheran Church, Fifteenth street, near Poplar, Rev. H. Spaeth; in St. Michael's Lutheran Church, Frankford, near York; St. Paul's, at St. John and Brown streets; St. Jacob's, Thirteenth street, near Columbia avenue; Reformed Zion's, Sixth street, near Girard avenue; Emanuel Reformed, Thirty-eighth and Story streets; St. Paul's Reformed, at Seventeenth and Fitzwater streets; Methodist Church, Twelfth street and Girard avenue; Synagogue of Keneseth Israel, Sixth street, near Brown; Evangelical Lutheran, Fourth and Carpenter streets; and in the Otter Street Church, near Frankford road.

The route of the great parade for Monday is finally fixed as follows:—Down Broad to Chesnut; Chesnut to Fourth; Fourth to Christian; Christian to Third; Third to Arch; Arch to Fifth; Fifth to Green; Green to Fourth; Fourth to Callowhill; Callowhill to Third; Third to Girard avenue; Girard avenue to Franklin street; Franklin street to Vine; Vine to Broad; Broad to Penn Squares.

"THE FOUR QUARTERS."—The second number of The Four Quarters, the new Democratic weekly edited by Mr. J. Trainor King, confirms the favorable impression made by the first. The typographical appearance of the paper is unusually handsome, while the literary attractions presented in its pages are varied and entertaining. Under the head of "Sketches of Prominent Democrats" is a portrait and biography of Hon. Richard T. Merrick, of Washington, D. C., and on the same page with this we find an excellent resume of the treaty just determined upon by the Joint High Commission, and a number of other readable articles. The editorial discussions of current topics are able, and The Four Quarters will undoubtedly be a valuable addition to the Democratic papers of Philadelphia. For general readers a number of short stories, sketches, and poems, many of them original, or translated expressly for The Four Quarters, are given, which will make the paper a welcome visitor to family circles. We are particularly pleased with a very pretty sketch entitled "Sarah," in the current number, which has been translated from the French by Mrs. Martha Lafitte Johnson, a lady favorably known as a graceful original writer as well as a translator. "The Maid of Soleure" is another entertaining story, and in addition to these there is a great variety of pieces on all manner of subjects, which help to make up a lively and readable sheet. The two numbers of The Four Quarters that have been issued indicate that its conductors have energy and ability, and we wish it every success in the future.

A NEW UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.—The congregation of the Second Universalist Church, formerly located on Eighth street, near Noble, have ordered the construction of a new house of worship on Master, above Sixteenth street, and the plans having been prepared, it is expected ground will be broken in a week or two. The materials of the structure are to be Ohio and brown stone. It will be 48 feet in breadth and 85 feet in depth, with a recess on the south end for the platform, pulpit, and organ of ten feet additional. The front will have a tower at the northeast corner, forming an entrance for the gallery, Sunday-school, and lecture-room.

The main audience-room will be on the first floor, and will seat comfortably 500 persons. On each side of the front entrance vestibule will be infant school and Bible class-rooms, connected with the main church by sash partitions. Over the vestibule will be the gallery, 30 by 44 feet, forming a pleasant Sunday-school and lecture-room, capable of seating 280 children. On each side of the entrance to the principal audience-room will be a commodious room which can be used for Bible class or committee-rooms. The finishing of the interior is to be of walnut, with frescoed walls and ceilings. The entire cost of the edifice when complete, exclusive of the ground, is estimated at about $30,000.

ICE FOR THE PARADE.—Arrangements having been made with the Knickerbocker Ice Company to furnish ice gratuitously to those participating in the German Peace Celebration, notice is hereby given to water-carriers that the company's wagons will be stationed at the following points:—Broad street and Columbia avenue; Broad street and Girard avenue; Broad and Spring Garden streets; Broad and Vine streets; Broad and Arch streets; Broad and Chesnut streets; Eleventh and Chesnut streets; Seventh and Chesnut street; Fourth and Chesnut streets; Fourth and South streets; Fourth and Christian streets; Third and South streets; Third and Chesnut streets; Third and Arch streets; Fifth and Race streets; Fifth and Green streets; Third and Brown streets; Third street and Girard avenue; Franklin and Poplar streets; and Franklin and Vine streets.

MUSIC IN THE PARK.—The afternoon concerts in Fairmount Park will be resumed this summer. The first entertainment will take place on next Tuesday afternoon at Lemon Hill. The orchestra, under the direction of Professor Theobald Hermann, has been increased to twenty pieces, and many new choice selections have been added to the extensive repertoire. During the summer months the concerts will take place on Tuesday and Saturday of each week at Lemon Hill, and on Thursdays at Belmont, in the West Park. Arrangements are in progress to have music at the children's play-ground in the West Park.

BADLY BEATEN.—A colored man named James Easely, of Wilmington, Delaware, was badly beaten by seven of his fellow hod-carriers on Columbia avenue, above Sixteenth, last evening. They were all at work on a building there, and his colaborers became jealous of and beat him. Reserve Officer Mullen with a squad of officers arrested the negroes, and brought them before Alderman Kerr, who held them each in $500 bail. Their names are Allen Brown, George Wilson, John Davis, Francis Thompson, Solomon Bush, Peter Berrard, and Thomas Clark.

THIEVES AND A RECEIVER.—Thomas Deasely and James Wireman were before Alderman Allison yesterday afternoon for the theft of lead pipe from a house at Seventh and Master. In a conversation with the police lieutenant they stated that Edward Harkins, a junk dealer at No. 730 Master street, had bought a floor of carpet, which had been stolen. Harkins was accordingly placed under arrest, and the entire party were committed for a further hearing in the case.

DISORDERLY HOUSE.—The proprietress of a house of ill-repute will be at the Central Station hearings this afternoon on the charge of keeping a disorderly house, and harboring against the wishes of her parents a young white girl, named Margaret McDermott, who ran away from home. The house of the defendant is at No. 214 Currant alley, and is filled with colored females. Miss Margaret was the only white spot (!) about the establishment.

DESERTED HER CHILD.—A few days ago an infant was left in the possession of a Mrs. Haggerty, living on Market street, above Twenty-third, by a woman who requested her to keep the child until she returned. The strange woman did not return, however, and the baby is now in the Almshouse.

YOUNG THIEF.—A boy, fourteen years of age, named John O'Connor, is under bonds for a hearing, when his accomplice is captured, for stealing cash from the drawer of a store of R. Boothnot, baker, No. 2542 Gray's Ferry road, yesterday.

STOLE A COAT.—Alderman Toland has sent to jail B. F. Perkins, who was arrested by Sergeant Donnelly for stealing a coat from a house in Mechanic street, above Culvert.

SNEAK THIEF.—A thief yesterday afternoon stole two cents from the entry of Mr. McBride's residence, No. 1117 Walnut street.

THE COAL TRADE.

The Resumption Becoming General—The Consequences of the Suspension—The Good Effect of the Lock-up by the Companies—The Complete Tonnage for the Week, Etc.

Resumption in all the coal regions is now fast becoming a fixed fact. In Schuylkill work will be generally resumed on next Monday. The independent collieries of the Wyoming region are also preparing to resume, and in the regions of Columbia and Northumberland counties special agreements have been made. The mines of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, according to the latest despatches, will also resume on Monday.

This resumption is much more speedy than what was expected a week ago, and least of all was it thought that Schuylkill would lead the way. But hunger, the want of the necessaries of life, and other troubles which the miners have wilfully brought upon themselves, were the great power. The Schuylkill region resumes by submitting to arbitration on the question of wages, and this it could have done long ago if the men had minded the teachings of their own good common sense instead of the mercenary advice of the interested leaders.

The few portions of the coal fields still in idleness will not long remain in that condition, now that the majority have determined to yield, and in a few days time we will probably see every mine in full operation. This is a cause for great congratulation not only to the miners but to all concerned.

After the great suffering which the miners have gone through with voluntarily, without having gained a single advantage thereby, it is hoped that a severe but healthy lesson has been learned by them, which will prevent a recurrence of another great strike with all its disastrous consequences. When another suspension is proposed, the miners should think well what it means before they vote in favor of it, and listen to reason. It is hoped that they will see, what has been plainly seen by everybody else heretofore, that for their own best interests it is better to settle difficulties in any other way possible than to resort to a general suspension, especially when it is likely to be of so great a duration as this one has been.

The miners have had to bear much themselves by reason of the enforced idleness, but they have had but little sympathy, because they were so manifestly unjust, because they ill-treated all who had dealings with them, and because all the suffering that they were obliged to bear they brought upon themselves of their own free will. A spirit of sympathy was raised for a short time in New York, because New York is a desperate enemy of the coal companies, and the miners were fighting the companies. But when it was found what demands were made, when the New York public became better acquainted with the kind of men they had to deal with, this sympathy soon died out, and the miners were deservedly left to fight the battle themselves. The securing of the hearty ill-will of everybody towards the miners is not one of the least evils which that class have brought upon themselves by their late actions, in addition to the impoverishment of themselves and families which they have so well accomplished, and they will feel the effects of this their own action for a long time to come. The reputation they have gained will hang to them, and every little action and deed that is done, whether right or wrong, will be interpreted according to this reputation. It will take a long course of good deeds and behavior to obliterate the remembrance of the unreasonable course of the miners in the late troubles.

But the miners have not been the only sufferers. The miners' dependants—the laborers, etc.—many of whom were opposed to a suspension, were kept in a state of idleness and want by the miners' action. Many merchants in the coal regions have been commercially ruined, and the coal regions themselves have been put in such a state of lawlessness and disorder that life has been in jeopardy, and as a result of this lawless state, the human passions have been roused to such an extent that in some cases blood has been shed and even lives lost. To all these evils, another might have resulted to the poor of our cities, by reason of the scarcity of coal, had not a merciful Providence sent mild weather, and enabled those who would otherwise have suffered severely to do without artificial warmth to a great extent. This scarcity, had it been felt, the miners would have been directly responsible for, notwithstanding the action of the carrying companies, for the miners stopped work in the first place that this scarcity might be felt for their own advantage, which it would have been had not the companies stepped in and taken the risk and blame of the evil upon their own shoulders, for at least more humane ends.

The loss to capital has been immense, and this should also be taken into account as one of the evils, though poor people are apt to think that this is of no account, because the rich are so much the more able to bear losses than their less fortunate neighbors. But if one member suffers we all suffer with him. If the rich operators have been crippled to any extent by the suspension, to that extent are they the less able to afford remunerative employment to the poor miners, and so again the action of the miners recoils upon themselves.

For this completion of the strike, satisfactory in many respects, the consuming public is largely indebted to the action of the companies, notwithstanding the apparent undesirableness of the combination. Had the companies taken any other course we might now have had a resumption of work with low prices, but we might also have been completely in the power of the miners, as of old, and be obliged to pay higher prices whenever they thought fit. The carrying companies and the operators are now more free to act for their own and our best interests than ever before in the history of the coal industry, and for this we should be grateful to the companies, at least to some extent. We hold, as we have held before, though the doctrine has been questioned and sneered at, that it is better to be in the clutches of a great power, however undesirable, which is governed by educated men who know to some extent how to govern it, than to become a victim of a power most ignorantly and unwisely governed, as was that which the miners formerly held. In the latter case it is impossible to foresee the danger and guard against it, because it comes from ignorance or mere whim.

The power of the W. B. A. has been seriously injured by the strike, and it is hoped that the injury may never be repaired. Another trade union which has been more poorly managed and more diverted from its legitimate sphere cannot be found, and if this is the end of the trouble which it has occasioned we have gotten off remarkably easy. One thing is certain, that the members will never again trust so implicitly and so unanimously to the present leaders, and if others are elected, should the present ones ever be prevailed upon to present their bona fide resignations, we hope that at least somewhat better ones will be put into their places.

The following is the complete summary of the trade for the past week, as reported for Pottsville Miners' Journal of to-day:—

The Journal also has the following:—

"The anthracite trade is now 2,733,004 tons behind last year. Last year we increased 1,716,480 tons over 1869. Had no suspension taken place, and the offer made by the coal operators and companies been accepted, the market this year would have taken from one and a half to two millions of tons increase at the low rates, which would have removed nearly all the surplus production from the market, so that another year's increase would have absorbed the whole increase at better prices. As it is there will be no increase of anthracite this year, and we may fall a little short of last year, and the whole increase will be made up from domestic and foreign bituminous coal, so that the anthracite trade will be in the same condition next year as regards its ability to overstock the market."

"From the best information we can glean, there is a transporting capacity equal to 525,000 to 550,000 tons a week, during the balance of the season. The whole supply of anthracite coal sent to market last year was 15,588,497 tons. We have already sent 1,733,418 tons to market, and for the remainder of the season we can send at least 480,000 tons on an average up to December, which would about bring it up to the supply of last year. If prices should rule at about $4 50 put on board at Philadelphia, and say $3 at the shipping ports of New York, we think the market will take about last year's supply; but if they should, from any cause whatever, run above these prices on an average, we doubt very much whether the market would take within a half or three-fourths of a million of the quantity sent to market last year; and the balance would be made up entirely with bituminous coal, the increase of which is already, from all sources, at least 400,000 tons. It is therefore much better for all the interests to have a regular business with fair prices for the balance of the year, than a fluctuating business with higher rates and diminished consumption."

THE MORTALITY OF THE CITY.—The number of deaths in the city for the week ending at noon today was 238, being a decrease of 3 from last week, and 87 less than those of the corresponding period of last year. Of these, 134 were adults; 104 were minors. 165 were born in the United States, 67 were foreign, 13 were people of color, and 9 were from the country. Of this number, 39 died of consumption of the lungs; 13 of disease of the heart; 6 of marasmus; 9 of old age; 3 of typhoid fever; 13 of convulsions; 3 of scarlet fever; 13 of inflammation of the lungs; 2 of congestion of the brain; and 12 of debility.

The deaths were divided as follows among the different wards:—

BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED.—In all parts of the city people are now busily engaged in decorating their houses. Most conspicuous of all is the magnificent decoration of the German Democrat office. The idea, emblematically expressed, is that we honor the gallant men who fought for the right—for "peace and union;" but that far more our homage is due to the idea of rational and free government and healthy social order; for a "union" based on the eternal principles of liberty and justice enunciated by Thomas Jefferson, whose "pen was mightier than the sword." Yet the press is mightest of all, for it propagates thoughts and thereby makes them the motive power of the nation. The above ideas are expressed by pictures in an ascending line, representing "Emperor William, crowned by the Angel of Peace," "Thomas Jefferson," and "The Press," above which rises the statue of its inventor, "Johannes Gutenberg." Three pictures in a horizontal line, of which that above "Emperor William" is again the central one, form the base of the pyramid of pictures, and they represent the principles and the result of the war—"Germania holding watch on the Rhine," conquering peace and bringing back "Union." The picture of Emperor William above, the pictures of Bismarck, the Crown Prince and a Bavarian Cuirassier, on the right side, and of Moltke, Prince Frederick Carl, and "Fuseller Kutschke," on the left side, evergreens and the German and American colors, form the frame of the whole decoration, which is crowned by American flags, national, State and city. This evening the building will be brilliantly illuminated.

OBITUARY.—A special meeting of the Commercial Exchange Association was held this morning, S. J. Comly presiding, to take action on the death of one of its members, H. N. Graham. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That the merchants of the Commercial Exchange Association share in the universal regret felt at the death of N. Hicks Graham.

Resolved, That in this mourful event we have lost an able associate and the community an intelligent, genial, and useful citizen.

Resolved, That the members here convened for the purpose of expressing their sorrow at the decease of their late associate will further manifest their regard by attending his funeral.

Resolved, That a committee of seven be appointed to condole with his family in their irreparable bereavement.

The following gentlemen were appointed on the committee:—William Brice, Ed. Siter, W. D. Murphy, B. B. Craycroft, D. N. Wetzler, Lafayette Baker, and E. Harper Jeffries.

STAFF OFFICERS.—Major George R. Maguire, who will command the Third Regiment and a number of veterans in the Peace Festival Parade on Monday next, has announced his staff to consist as follows:—Colonel Martin Killacky, A. D. C.; Captain W. A. Hoyt, Adjutant; and Captain Andrew Riddell, A. D. C.

INDECENT.—John Miller is under $800 bonds by Alderman Allison for not conducting himself like a gentleman at Turner's lane and Montgomery avenue yesterday afternoon.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

BUNN SET FREE.

He is Saved by a Technicality.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Paxson.

In the case of William M. Bunn, Register of Wills, indicted for subornation of perjury, who demurred to the indictment on the ground that the prosecution was not begun in time to save it from the effect of the statute of limitations, Judge Paxson this morning gave a decision confirming this point, and quashing the indictments. The opinion, which is very able and interesting, is as follows:—

Three bills of indictment were found by the Grand Jury at the March term of the Court against the above defendant, charging him with subornation of perjury. To these bills he has interposed the statute of limitations by way of demurrer and motion to quash.

It was formerly supposed that in order to obtain the benefit of the statute it was necessary to plead it. The law was so held in Commonwealth vs. Hutchinson, 2 Parsons, 453. But this case has been overruled, and a contrary doctrine was laid down in Com. vs. Ruffner, 4 Casey, 259. In the latter case it was held that the defendant may take advantage of the statute without pleading it. Mr. Wharton, in his excellent "Treatise on Criminal Law," vol. 1, §445, says:—The general rule is that advantage may be taken of the statute on the general issue, or when it appears on record by motion in arrest of judgment or a motion to quash." To the same point is Commonwealth vs. Hass, 7 P. F. S., 445, when the indictment was quashed because it appeared upon its face that the offense charged had been committed more than two years prior to the finding of the bill.

In the cases under consideration the bills charge the offense to have been committed on the 10th day of January, A. D. 1869, and the said bills were found on the 21st day of March, A. D. 1871, or more than two years thereafter.

In Commonwealth vs. Hass, above cited, it was held that the limitation presented by the 77th Section of Act of March 31, 1860 (criminal procedure), is to be computed from the time a true bill is found, and not from the time of the commencement of the prosecution. The said section provides that "all indictments and prosecutions for other felonies, not named or excepted heretofore in this section, and for all misdemeanors, perjury excepted, shall be brought or exhibited within two years after such felony or misdemeanor shall have been committed."

It was urged for the Commonwealth that the 12th section of the code defining the offense of perjury has abolished all practical difference between perjury and subornation of perjury, and that by reason thereof the latter offense is also excepted by the statute of limitations. It is difficult to see the force of this reasoning. It is true that both offenses are punished alike, but this is the case with many other offenses. Perjury at common law is defined to be a crime committed when a lawful oath is administered in some judicial proceeding to a person who swears wilfully, absolutely, and falsely in a matter material to the issue or point in question. Subornation of perjury is the offense of procuring another to take such a false oath as constitutes perjury in the principal—4 Black. Com. 136. The defendant is charged with the latter offense, and for that the statutory limitation is two years.

It has also been suggested that the defendant was a member of the Legislature, and by the Constitution privileged from arrest for all offenses except felony and breach of the peace until the 22d of April, 1869, when that body adjourned. If this were relied upon to stop the running of the statute it should have been averred in the bill. But if it had been so averred it would not have availed under the authority of Graham vs. the Com. 1 P. F. S. 255, when it was held that the "proviso was meant for persons escaping and absenting themselves to avoid punishment until lapse of time might enable them to return with impunity." In this case it is not pretended that the defendant has not been within the jurisdiction of this Court, and liable to arrest, during nearly the whole of the statutory period, and that a prosecution might have been commenced within that time.

This case is too clear for argument. The indictment shows upon its face that the offense charged was committed, if committed at all, more than two years prior to the finding of the bill; and there are no averments in said bill of any facts which bring the case within the exceptions specified in the statute. In such cases the law interposes its shield for the protection of the defendant. This is too well settled to be questioned.

This view of the case renders it unnecessary to consider the other questions raised upon the motions referred to.

Judgment for the defendant upon the demurrer.

This great medicine cured Dr. J. H. Schenck, the proprietor, of pulmonary consumption, when it had assumed its most formidable aspect, and when speedy death appeared to be inevitable. His physicians pronounced his case incurable, when he commenced the use of this simple but powerful remedy. His health was restored in a very short time, and no return of the disease has been apprehended, for all the symptoms quickly disappeared, and his present weight is more than two hundred pounds. Dr. Schenck has been equally successful in the treatment of others similarly affected. Since his recovery he has devoted his attention exclusively to the cure of consumption and the diseases which are usually complicated with it, and the cures effected by his medicines have been very numerous and truly wonderful. The Syrup is a safe remedy. It contains no mineral poison and no violent drug of any kind; hence it cannot possibly injure the system. Its healing effects on the lungs are most remarkable; it permeates those organs and carries its salutary influences to every part; it soothes the inflamed surface of the bronchial tubes; it promotes expectoration, and thus enables the system to throw off the disease. In short, it is the true remedy and the only one for the most fatal of all maladies, as many persons of the highest respectability who have experienced its benefits can testify. Numerous certificates to this effect, and full directions in English, French, Spanish, and German, accompany each bottle.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his Principal Office, No. 15 N. Sixth street, corner of Commerce street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each $1·50 per bottle, or $7·50 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC.

This medicine, invented and preparred by Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, is proved to be the best remedy for dyspepsia, and all disorders of the digestive organs, that has ever been offered to the public. The great success and popularity of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup are sufficient to recommend this Tonic to public favor and confidence. It was originally designed to be used in connection with the Pulmonic Syrup in the treatment of consumption, but experience proves that it is adapted to all cases of indigestion and debility. The Seaweed Tonic possesses all the strengthening properties of iodide of iron, iodine, or iodide of potassium. It is also similar in nature to the gastric juice, the fluid which nature provides to carry on the process of digestion, and when that fluid is deficient, the Tonic supplies its place. It is the only medicine which can answer this purpose, and, consequently, it is the only medicine which can cure dyspepsia. Other preparations, however they may seem to afford temporary relief, never fail to aggravate the disease. This must necessarily be the case when corrosive acids and minerals are used to cure indigestion; and such are the remedies which physicians generally prescribe for that object. The Seaweed Tonic contains no such injurious drugs. It is distilled from a vegetable substance, which is produced in great abundance on the seashore, the mode of distillation being similar to that which is used in the manufacture of Jamaica spirits. This Tonic never disagrees with the most delicate stomach. In the early stage of consumption this medicine is generally of great utility, as consumption often begins with disorder of the stomach and general debility, for which Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a certain remedy.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, No. 15 N. Sixth street, corner of Commerce street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, each, $1·50 per bottle, or $7·50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

are composed entirely of roots and herbs, obtained from the great storehouse of Nature, and their salutary effects will appear as soon as the medicine is brought to the test of a fair experiment.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS do not produce any nausea or sickness of the stomach; but when given for Dyspepsia, it may be proper to use them in connection with SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC. By this judicious treatment, the digestive faculties are speedily restored to their full vigor, and the worst cases of indigestion may be cured.

When we reflect that the liver is the largest internal organ of the body; that to it is assigned the important duty of filtering the blood and preparing the bile; that it is subject to many disorders, and that when it is diseased, or inactive, the whole body suffers sympathetically, it is not surprising that a medicine which can restore the healthy operations of the liver should produce wonderful changes in the general health, and effect cures which may appear to be almost miraculous. Headache of long continuance, severe pains in the side, breast, and shoulders, aching of the limbs, a feeling of general weakness, and weariness, and other alarming and distressing symptoms, indicative of imperfect or disordered action of the liver, are speedily removed by the use of SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS.

Costiveness, piles, bitter or sour eructations, and that indescribable feeling of oppression, mental anxiety, languor, lethargy, and depression of spirits, which unfit a man for the management of business and the enjoyment of life, are relieved by the use of
